MONDAY, OCTOBER 25. 1742.

Since our laſt arriv'd a Mail from France, and another from Flanders.

Warſaw, Oct. 18.

WE learn by Diſpatches from our Miniſter at Conſtantinople, that notwithſtanding the ſtrong Party which a certain Chriſtian Potentate has in the Divan, and in ſpite of all the Intrigues of Baſha Bonneval and his Friends, the Porte is determined not to enter into a War with the Chriſtian Powers. On the contrary, the Grand Signior has taken ſuch a Diſtaſte to Propoſitions of this Nature, that he has actually forbid Baſha Bonneval to aſſiſt at Council for the future, having taken a ſettled Reſolution to turn his Arms againſt the Perſians. It is the late Ambaſſador to the Ruſſian Court who has given this new Turn to Affairs, by convincing his Sublime Highneſs, and the wiſeſt Members of the Divan, that a War with Ruſſia, or with the Queen of Hungary, muſt be as fatal in its Concluſion as it would be inglorious in its Beginning, by a ſcandalous Breach of Treaties.

Dreſden, Oct. 18. The Court has lately publiſhed an Order, whereby the French Officers which come from Bohemia ſhall not remain here any longer than is neceſſary for them to refreſh their Horſes; and the ſame Order contains a Clauſe, importing, that on their Departure they ſhall be conducted by a proper Officer. Both theſe Orders are inſerted in all the Paſſports given them, and are thereby extended to the whole Electorate. The French have ſeized the King of Pruſſia's Magazines of Salt at Leutmaritz, of which his Majeſty has complain'd in high Terms to our Court; and ſome imagine that this has given occaſion to the before-mentioned Order. Indeed, according to all Circumſtances, it ſhould ſeem that we cannot long maintain a good Correſpondence with the French. They have lately plunder'd ſome Villages, which however prov'd little to their Advantage; our Ulans having ſurpriz'd them while they were at that Work, cut off a great Number, and made the reſt Priſoners. All our Troops are in Motion, and a Bridge has been already raiſed on the Elbe at Schandau, which is to ſerve for the Paſſage of 30,000 Pruſſians into Bohemia; who are, without doubt, to be join'd by the 12,000 Men which his Majeſty lends to the Queen of Hungary. Add to all this, that as our Miniſter at the Court of France is recalled, it is by no means probable that the French Miniſter will ſtay long here.

Nuremberg, Oct. 21. There arrived here laſt Week about 20 Merchants who are returned from Prague. They had the Misfortune to get there a little before the Siege, and ſo were ſhut up during the Time it continued. They report, that the Gariſon has loſt more ſince the Raiſing of the Siege in Sallies, than in the Siege itſelf. We are likewiſe adviſed that the Auſtrians have taken Poſt within a League of Egra, which gives them an Opportunity of cutting off, at leaſt, one Convoy in three that is ſent thither. The Troops of the Circle of Franconia have begun to treat the French Marauders very roughly, and have even proceeded to hang ſome of them, as the Saxons have done others.

Ratiſbon, Oct. 22. The Day before Yeſterday a Detachment of Auſtrian Huſſars, commanded by Capt. Hutter, arrived about Four in the Morning at Stadt-amhoff, where they ſurrounded the Houſe of a Printer, who had publiſhed a Piece intituled, A Relation of the Re-taking of Landſhut; and after examining him ſtrictly, they contented themſelves with cauſing that Paper to be be burnt in the Market-place by the Hands of the Hangman. It is confirmed, that a great Body of Auſtrian Troops are again entered into this Electorate, and the Reaſon is ſaid to be, that Marſhal Maillebois had formed a Deſign of wintering here.

Hague, Oct. 28. The Town of Dort is the only one at preſent of the Province of Holland, which oppoſes the intended March and Encampment of our Troops. All imaginable Methods have been uſed, both publickly and privately, in order to determine that Town to act in Conjunction with the reſt. We are told, that ſome of the General Officers in Foreign Service have excuſed themſelves from accepting the Commands offered them by the States; and that this, together with the Conduct of a certain Prince on the ſame Head, has occaſion'd much Uneaſineſs. The wiſer Sort of People, however, conſider theſe Reports as ſpread by a French Faction, and make no doubt that when Things grow ripe for Execution, all Private Prejudices will give way to the Intereſt and Service of the Publick.

Bruſſels, Oct. 27. Yeſterday his Majeſty's Hanoverian Troops were reviewed by his Excellency the Earl of Stair in the Plain of Dighem, a League off of this Place, between the Louvain Road and Vilvorden. The whole 16,000 Men were drawn up by Nine in the Forenoon, by Regiments in one Line; half of the Horſe, with the Horſe Guards and Dragoons, formed the Right, and the other half of the Horſe the Left Wing. The three Companies of Artillery were between the Foot and the Left Wing of Horſe, ſo that theſe Troops ſtretched almoſt a League in Length. The Field Artillery, of about 24 Pieces of Cannon, were on the other Side of the Road, oppoſite to the Right Wing. The two Princes of Heſſe-Caſſel rode firſt along the Line, and had all due Honours paid them. A little after, his Excellency the Earl of Stair, in Company with the Governor-General of theſe Low-Countries, attended by moſt of the General Officers and chief Nobility, rode alſo all along the Line, with the military Honours paid him; after which they retired to ſeveral Tents. About Twelve the Hanoverian Army filed off by the Right, nine a-breaſt, in Review before his Excellency, who had the Princes of Heſſe, the Governor-General, and all their Court and his with him. The March laſted till after Five in the Afternoon, to the Satisfaction of all preſent, who were extreamly pleaſed with the great Beauty and good Order of theſe Troops. Onſlow Burriſh, Eſq; who is appointed his Majeſty's Secretary at the Court of Liege, ſet out hence two Days ago for that Station.

Extract of a private Letter from Paris, Oct. 31.

'I have always told you, that this War and the late 'Adminiſtration bore very heavy upon France. Upon a 'ſtrict Enquiry into the Amount of the Subſidies paid to 'foreign Courts, and the Monies iſſued for the Payment 'of the Armies ſent as Auxiliaries into Germany, it ap'pears, that from the Beginning of this War to the 'firſt of this Month, we have conſumed upwards of '300,000,000. The War with which we are threaten'd 'in the Low Countries will infallibly heighten this Ex'pence, and that very conſiderably, if we may gueſs at 'the future Charge by what it has coſt us already. The 'laſt great Council that was held here, or to ſpeak more 'properly, at Verſailles, had nothing in View but the 'raiſing of Money in the eaſieſt Method, and ſo as to cre'ate as few Difficulties as poſſible to the People.

'A certain Miniſter propoſed on this Occaſion levying '33,000,000 on the Clergy, by taxing at a certain Rate 'all who enjoy'd Benefices to the Value of 1000 Livres a 'Year and upwards. Cardinal Tencin oppos'd this vehe'mently, and with very plauſible Arguments. "The "Clergy of France, ſaid he, have always ſhewn as great "Readineſs to contribute to the Neceſſities of the State "as any Body of Men in the Kingdom, and have ſince "this War began granted very large Sums by way of "Free-gift. Theſe you have had, and may have annually, "but if you raiſe ſuch a Tax as this, there is an End of "that Fund, for by taking away ſo great a Part of their "Revenues without their Conſent, you will not leave "them either the Means or the Will to give freely." The 'Perſon who ſpoke firſt for the Tax admitted theſe Rea'ſons to be good, but added, that he hoped his Eminence 'would offer ſome Plan of his own inſtead of that which 'he was for rejecting.

'The Cardinal upon this produced a Scheme for a new 'Lottery. It was very ingenious, well calcu'ated, and 'far from being burthenſome to the People. No body 'ſpoke againſt it, but at the ſame time it was evident 'that very few ſeem'd to be of Opinion it would an'ſwer what was expected from it. This however will 'in all Probability be the Scheme which the Court will 'endeavour to put in Execution, and this will afford us 'a new Opportunity of judging, whether the Miniſter's 'Capacity in reſpect to Figures is ſo tranſcendent as his 'Creatures give out.

'Our News from Bohemia is ſo various, ſo uncertain, 'and withal ſo improbable, that I think it would be loſing 'ſo much time, to trouble you with it. I ſhall content 'myſelf therefore with telling you, that Marſhal Broglio's 'Credit begins to decline, and that the Politicians talk 'much of a Relation of the War in Bohemia, written by 'Marſhal Belliſle, which they ſay is a very fine Piece, and 'a full Proof of its Author's being an able Officer and a 'conſummate Politician. In this Work it is ſaid he lays 'open the true Motives of his Pruſſian Majeſty's quitting 'the Alliance, and the real Grounds of thoſe Suſpicions 'which have lately riſen at the Court of Franckfort. 'Yet how much ſoever this Piece may raiſe his Reputa'tion with the Wits of the preſent Age, or with Poſte'rity, it is much doubted whether it will recommend 'him to the Miniſtry.

'You have heard I ſuppoſe of the long Negociation 'carried on with Mr. Stainville the Grand Duke's Miniſter 'here, while the Marſhal Maillebois was on his March to 'Bohemia, but the Particulars were never known till 'very lately. I ſend you incloſed a very curious Ac'count of them, together with a Copy of the Declaration 'made to that Miniſter, which will demonſtrate the Un'eaſineſs our Court was under about the Effects of that 'Expedition, and their Willingneſs to have extricated M. 'Broglio from his Difficulties at any rate.'

[This Account ſhall be inſerted Tomorrow.]

LONDON.

The French Army in Bohemia has been as much weakened by frequent Skirmiſhes, as if they had loſt a Battle; and their Convoys are ſo often cut off, that thoſe who are left are in the utmoſt Diſtreſs for Proviſions.

As great Numbers of the Bohemian Peaſants have taken up Arms in the Service of the Queen their Sovereign, Prague is again inveſted; and it is generally believed, that on the News of the Retreat of Marſhal Maillebois, it will ſurrender at Diſcretion.

The Retreat of the Spaniards who were advancing towards Bologna, was occaſioned by their receiving Advice that Don Philip had been obliged to abandon Savoy.

It is reported that the Duke de Montemar will continue at Genoa, till he ſees what Effect his Letter to the Queen of Spain will produce; but 'tis ſaid the Marquis de Caſtillar will continue his Journey to Madrid, as ſoon as he receives proper Paſſports from the King of Sardinia.

Letters from Lisbn of the 4th Inſtant, N.S. ſay, that the King of Portugal is relapſed, and is in ſo deſperate a State that his Phyſicians have no longer any Hopes. Publick Prayers however are put up for him in all the Churches, particularly in that of St. Peter, by his Majeſty's expreſs Deſire.

On Thurſday laſt, Mr. Chappel Cox, A. B. was admitted by the Lord Biſhop of Ely to a Fellowſhip of Peter-Houſe College Cambridge.

The Rev. Mr. Stewart, Fellow of the ſame College, was likewiſe appointed by his Lordſhip to the Living of Lawſton in Cambridgeſhire, void by the Death of the Rev. Mr. Thickneſs, Fellow of King's College.

On Friday Night laſt, between Nine and Ten, one Mr. Bennet was attack'd at the Corner of Chick-lane, Weſt-Smithfield, by two Street-Robbers. Having given him ſeveral violent Blows, one of the Villains run one of his Hands into his Mouth to prevent his making any Noiſe, and holding a Knife in the other, ſwore he would cut his Throat if he made the leaſt Reſiſtance, while the other Villain robb'd him of 12 l.

On Saturday laſt a Preſentation paſs'd the Great Seal, of the Rev. John Shenningham, M. A. to the Vicarage of Swillond in the County of Suffolk and Dioceſe of Norwich. Alſo,

A Diſpenſation, to enable the Rev. William Bowles, M. A. Chaplain to the Right Hon. Thomas Earl of Strathmore, to hold the Rectory of Bradford-Peverell in the County of Dorſet and Dioceſe of Briſtol, together with the Rectory of Dunhead-St. Andrew in the County of Wilts and Dioceſe of Sarum.

The ſame Day an Attorney was committed by the Barons of the Exchequer to the Fleet Priſon, for Male-Practices.
